

Your Integration

What pattern keeps showing up?

Name it plainly. It might be a behaviour, a reaction, a way you shrink, a type of person you attract, or something you keep repeating no matter how many times you say you won't

Where do you first remember it?

Not the most recent time. The earliest. How old were you? What was happening around you?

INHERITED

I learned this watching someone else

Who modelled it?
Did it keep them safe?

NOT SURE

It just feels like it has always been there

That's ok. Sit with it
Clarity comes in layers

MINE

I developed this in response to something

What were you protecting yourself from?

What has this pattern been protecting you from?

Every pattern has a purpose - even the ones that hurt you. It kept you safe once. Can you have compassion for the part of you that needed it?

Is it ready to be released?

There is no right answer. Readiness is not a failure test

YES

What does releasing it feel like in your body?
What do you need to do, say or feel to let it go?

NOT YET

What does it still need from you?
More time is not a setback. What one small step feels possible right now?

Releasing is not a single moment

It is a practice. It happens in layers. You will not do it perfectly and that is not the point

Let go of how healing is supposed to look

The timeline you have in your head is not real. Healing does not follow a schedule. What you are doing right now counts.

You don't need to be done. You need to be willing

Willingness is enough to start. What are you willing to loosen your grip on - even slightly - now?

What would it feel like to not carry this anymore?

Sit with that feeling. Let it be the thing you move toward, not the idea of being fixed.
