

Akashic Records Practitioner Training

Training Manual - Scope of Practice, Client Management & Contraindications

1. Scope of Practice

Akashic Record reading and healing is a complementary energy modality. It is not, and is never presented as, a substitute for medical, psychiatric, psychological, or legal advice.

Graduates of this training agree to the following, every session, every client:

- Never diagnose.
- Never prescribe or advise against medical treatment.
- Never predict death, illness, or give guaranteed outcomes as fact.
- Always disclose what this is.
- Always refer out when something beyond scope surfaces.

2. Client Management

Before the session

- Informed consent before booking.
- Intake screening to flag anything needing extra care or a referral instead.

During the session

- Session structure: opening, working, closing, integration.
- Confidentiality.
- Boundaries: warmth without fostering dependency.
- Transference awareness.

After the session

- Aftercare guidance.
- Record keeping.
- Grievance process.

3. Contraindications

Situation	Action
Active suicidal ideation or acute psychiatric crisis	Do not proceed. Refer immediately.
Active psychosis or severe dissociative disorder	Do not proceed without the client's treating mental health professional.
Client under the influence of drugs or alcohol	Reschedule.
Client currently in active trauma therapy	Proceed only with extra care; encourage looping in their therapist.
Client avoiding necessary medical/psychological treatment	Gently redirect.

Minors	Only with informed parent/guardian consent and presence.

4. Risk Mitigation

- Pre-session screening questions.
- Protocol if a client becomes distressed mid-session.
- Practitioner self-regulation before and after every session.
- Every graduate holds their own public liability and professional indemnity insurance.

5. Assessment Methods

Ties to Phase 5a - Assessment & Practicum.

- Practical assessment: a supervised reading and healing session, assessed live in peer pods.
- Reflective component: short case notes plus a written/spoken response to an ethics/contraindication scenario.
- Pass standard: safe opening/closing, appropriate scope-of-practice language, correct identification of at least one contraindication scenario.

6. Mode of Delivery

- Live online cohort sessions - 7 sessions total across the 5 phases, each session tightened to 60-90 minutes, roughly 8-9.75 hours of contact time overall, sized for a small cohort of 4-6 students.
- Phase 3 (Healing in the Records) and Phase 5 (Certification Practicum) are each split into two sessions - teaching separated from supervised practice, and assessment separated from graduation - so neither gets rushed.
- Phase 3a also covers reading and healing across different life areas (relationships, work, health, money, family/ancestry, purpose).
- Recorded sessions available afterward so nothing is lost if a live is missed.
- Peer practice pods during live sessions for supervised practice.
- Telegram (or similar) access between sessions for questions and support.

Curriculum outline finalised 2026-07-03: 7 live sessions, ~8-9.75 hours total (60-90 min per session), small cohort (4-6). This manual and the session-by-session curriculum are ready to go to IICT as a full application package once a program name is chosen.
